

COLUMBUS, August 6.
OHIO BRIGADE AT TRINITY, ALA.
The following is an official account of an attack made upon Lieut. Harman and twenty-five men of the 31st O. V. I. by three hundred and fifty rebel cavalry, who met with a most determined and gallant resistance from our little band, and were finally repulsed. It is an additional testimony to the fidelity of the Scotch braggadocio that a Southerner can whip five Northerners:

HEADQUARTERS, 31st Ohio Vol's.,
WINCHESTER, TENN., Aug. 3.

Adjutant General Chas. W. Hull.

GENERAL—I beg leave to report that at about 4 o'clock on the afternoon of the 24th ult. Lieut. M. B. W. Harman in command of Co. E, 31st O. V. I., with one platoon of his company, numbering twenty-five men, including non-commissioned officers, who were stationed at a place called Trinity, near Decatur, Ala., for the purpose of guarding the Memphis & Charleston Railroad, were attacked by a force of rebel cavalry, which numbered about three hundred and fifty men. The attack was made when Lieut. Harman and his little band were engaged in erecting a stockade fort, and they were without immediate possession of their arms, which were stacked near at hand. At the first fire they sprang to their arms, and commenced the most Spartan-like resistance which the history of this war, so far as furnished. At least twelve of the enemy were killed, and not less than thirty or forty wounded, but the precise number of either killed or wounded, could not be ascertained, as the enemy was able to carry off his wounded, and all but five of his dead. Lieut. Harman held his position, fighting like a lion at bay, though he was badly wounded in the face, and painfully though not seriously in the left arm.

His example inspired his men to emulate his conduct, and all but two of the twenty-six fought with desperate valor. Chas. Cross was shot in the right iliac region, the ball passing upward and backward. Zachary Buckingham was struck by a large musket ball which entered at an inferior angle to the scapular, passing out between the second and third ribs, cutting the upper section of the right lobe of the lung. The wound is considered mortal. Walter Case was hit in the shoulder. The wound is considered mortal. John F. Clason was wounded by a ball passing through the forehead. Wm. S. Bennett was shot in the neck. Wm. Herndon received three backshots in the right arm, and a rifle ball in the right thigh. F. Conklin was shot through the back of the head; James Maxwell in the right thigh; Lewis Ross in the hand; J. Le Roux through the arm, and L. Bard through the back. Two other privates were wounded whose names I have not learned. It is thought by the Surgeons that all except Buckingham will recover.

You will see by this report that one-half of this little band were killed and wounded. The work upon the fortifications had not advanced far enough to afford them any protection. They remained masters of the field until a late hour at night, when they were taken to Decatur.

It is believed that the same force which attacked Lieut. Harman did much mischief along the railroad during the same day. Near Courtland, Ala., 80 of the 10th Kentucky Volunteers were taken prisoners, and two companies of the 10th Indiana driven away, and in addition to which bridges and trestlework all along the line between Courtland and Decatur were destroyed.

This report would have been finished sooner, but for the reason that we have been upon the march ever since the fight occurred.

Respectfully submitted
M. B. WALKER,
Col. Comd'g 31st O. V. I.

IMPORTANT FROM VIRGINIA—THE EVACUATION OF RICHMOND AGAIN REPORTED.

FORTRESS MONROE, Aug. 8.
The mail boat from Harrison's Landing has arrived. She reports the Union prisoners from Richmond have arrived at Harrison's Landing. Large numbers of stragglers were found near Malvern Hill when the Union troops took possession of that place. Reports from the camp of the Army of Virginia to the 4th inst., say accounts are frequently received here through various channels that the rebel army of Richmond has been removing from the city southward for the last ten days. The sources through which some of these reports come are entitled to full credence. It is added that among the causes of the evacuation of Richmond are the exhaustion of the country north of the James, the infectious and pestilential atmosphere, and the superior advantages of the James for a line of defense.

It is also stated they intend to maintain an open railroad connection with the Valley, via Lynchburg, Charlottesville, and Gordonsville to Staunton, to the last moment, as a reserve for supplies.

CULPEPPER, Va., Aug. 8.
Important from Pope's Command—Gen. Pope and staff have arrived, and are located near the house of Mr. Wallock, editor of the Washington Star—Gen. Buford's cavalry was at Madison on the 6th. He reports all quiet. The enemy had reported there that Jackson had moved to Liberty Mills on the Rapidan, west of the Central railroad, having a force of 30,000 men. Everything indicates readiness for action. The citizens are desponding. No orders have yet reached the Provost Marshal to administer the oath of allegiance to citizens. The cars arrived yesterday with passengers and freight from Alexandria. The telegraph will be completed to-day.

No more will the father to meet her father, who returned from his daily labor, with a glad heart and smiling face to welcome him home. No more will she come running in, her little face flushed with excitement, to tell "mamma" of some sweet incident of birds or flowers. Ah, never more. What sweet music it must have been to the hearts of her parents, as she said a few moments before she died, "mamma, I'm going to heaven." Then she said that they thought she died; but she had an angel cherub less on earth, than had an angel more in heaven. Oh, blessed thought! An angel child is a boy twelve years of age, and my oldest sister is but a little girl at school. I left home last March, and my father, General Houston, was then in better health than he had been for years.

at prices 20 per cent cheaper than any other clothing house in this place. I buy wholly for cash, and can afford to sell at lower rates of profit. Try me, and verify it for yourself.

My stock is too extensive to particularize in an advertisement.

Gentlemen will find in my house every article in the Clothing line, from a pair of cotton hose to the finest cloth found in any market. My workmen are first class—none other employed. The best cutter in the State on hand at all hours, and one who is "death on fits."

Military clothing of every kind, furnished on the shortest notice, and warranted to fit or no sale. Call, not below, but right on the corner of Third and Court streets, if you want the worth of your money. No "gags" kept about the house—no "sperits."

Said President Lincoln, to General Scott: "One question of moment must not be forgot. Not a question of dollars for sharp financiers. But what shall we do with the brave volunteers?"

The General said with a soldierly wink, "Why the fact, I hardly know which way to think."

The great vexed question of the clothing ration, Has fearfully bothered the heads of the nation."

The President said "I have hit on a plan which concerns the volunteer's outer man. Heretofore their condition has truly been bad; They'll never be decent, till decently clad."

Let us get them some garments in which they can feel.

That they really are soldiers, and really gentle.

And I think the best thing deserving their thanks.

Is to purchase their clothes at Moses Frank's.

Said the General, "Yes—and suppose you sell I."

Set out for the same institution, and buy The very best clothes, in the world for ourselves.
